Congratulations to this week's Falcons of the Week - Peyton Zettel, Ruby Kendrick, Kyli Ward, and Brett Lee. Please stop in the office during advisory to pick up your shirt, lunch, popcorn and slushy pass from Mrs. Rice.

Attention Seniors: The deadline for local scholarships is coming up fast! There are thousands of dollars available and all you have to do is apply for them. Grab as many free dollars as you can to help with expenses after high school (tuition, books, tools, gas money for transportation, and uniforms are all eligible uses for scholarship money). Please see Mr. Smith or Ms. Hofer if you have questions about the process.

We have openings for concessions workers on Feb 9 and 11th. Please see Ms. Thomas or Mr. Miller to sign up or with any questions. You can earn money for your senior trip, cap and gown etc.

Falcons, Many of you are always looking out for the wellbeing of others. You want to see the world become a better place and you put in the work to make that happen - sometimes even at the cost of your own personal welfare. If you put in the work without expecting a reward, then our word of the week describes you: Altruistic. To be altruistic is to be unselfish. It is a way of describing a person or their actions that raises others up, sometimes even at a cost to the person helping out. It is the devotion to doing the right thing and helping others out. Here it is in a sentence: Every year, Ogemaw Heights High School students collect money to help buy Christmas presents and food for families in need. Our altruistic falcons make a difference in the community, even if it means going without Starbucks or Taco Bell for a week. See Mr. Pilarski if you want to know more about our word of the week.
